INVITATION

On behalf of the Organizing Committee, we would like to invite you to China to participate in this international congress of gynecologic pathology, an event for pathologists from the Asia-Pacific region and beyond. We believe that these few days will prove to be unforgettable and rewarding.

The main theme of the scientific program is "Current Advances in Gynecologic Pathology and Women's Health". Under the auspices of International Society of Gynecological Pathologists and the Chinese Division of International Academy of Pathology, an outstanding academic program has emerged by including a panel of world-renowned experts, a dynamic academic exchange environment and pleasant activities for social interactions. With increasing application of the new WHO classification of gynecologic tumors, the event deems to provide an exceptional update in all areas of diagnostic gynecologic pathology.

Beijing is the capital of China and one of the most well-known cities with exquisite historic preservations and restorations to visit and plenty of entertainment to enjoy. Since the nation's first Olympic Games in 2008, the city has been transformed into an international cultural, entertainment and economic metropolis. The Meeting will provide a unique opportunity for you to visit the city and experience the fast changing pace of the nation.

We warmly welcome colleagues from all over the world to join us.

Yours faithfully

Pei Hui, M.D., Ph.D.
Congress President

Weigang Fang, M.D., Ph.D.
Congress Co-president
